Address

TO THE

CONFERENCE OF THE METHODIST NEW CONNEXION CHURCH IN ENGLAND.

DEAR FATHERS AND BRETHREN:—Having been spared by a gracious providence to meet in our twenty-first Annual Conference, we would renew to you our assurances of unwavering attachment, and profound respect. The confidence we at first placed in you, as the Parent Body has by a train of circumstances been strengthened and matured; and most devoutly do we thank Almighty God that ever in his providence, he directed your missionaries to Canada. The very happy connection existing between us, we hope may long remain, and prove a means of preparing us for a closer and happier union in heaven, where we shall be united in closer, sweeter bonds "Never to be broke off again to all eternity." It is a pleasing feature of the christian religion, that while it suppresses all boisterous, and irregular feelings, it developes the more amiable and benevolent dispositions of the soul, and predisposes its subject to the friendship, and eminently prepares them for the Society of Heaven. Thus connected with you by the ties of christian friendship, as well as by the obligation of gratitude under which we are laid to you, we rejoice to hear of your prosperity, and most earnestly do we pray that the Great Head of the Church may abundantly bless your efforts, and make you a thousand times as many more as you are.

Our present Conference has been one of the most interesting character we have ever yet held, and has been more extensively occupied than any previous session in important measures, affecting our extension and increase. As might be expected, the increase of our numbers as well as our business in Conference, tended to increase the general interest of this session; and while warmth and interest has characterized the discussion of many subjects, yet no spirit was permitted to obtain among us contrary to brotherly love; and the great object of each, seemed to be, to extend our Zion, and to advance the Divine Glory. Whatever difference of opinion may have existed in reference to measures, yet all were agreed in reference to the great end. And through our entire sittings we felt the force of the Psalmist's exclamation—"Behold how good and how pleasant it is for brethren to dwell together in unity." The committee appointed to station the preachers have experienced great inconvenience arising from the want of ministers to fill many important stations. Though our General Superintendent, and our Assistant Superintendent are both appointed to fill stations, still we want several more efficient labourers in order to meet the present pressing demands upon our Conference. "Truly the harvest is plentuous but the labourers are few, pray ye therefore the Lord of the harvest that he would thrust out more labourers into his harvest."

Our movements are to a great extent aggressive. In proportion as our truly scriptural and reasonable church polity is understood by other branches of the Methodist family, it is admired and approved, and one place after another anxious to exercise the rights secured to them in the word of God, appeal to us to supply to them the same privileges which we enjoy. Thus one place after another is opening to us and inviting our labours and the establishment of our principles, and the increase of openings being more extensive than the increase in the number of Ministers to fill these places subjects us to the greatest inconvenience. In endeavoring to meet as many calls as possible with our present limited means, many of our Ministers have been put to serious inconvenience; and dividing their labors to some extent their own stations have suffered.

The arrival of Mr. McClure has proved a valuable addition to our staff of labourers; but we exceedingly lament that circumstances have rendered it necessary to restrict his labors almost exclusively to the City of Toronto. It was with feelings of gratitude to God as the moving cause, and to you as His Agents, that we received Mr. McClure into our Colonial Conference, and raised him to the Presidential Chair, ; and we most earnestly pray that his life and energies may be long preserved to bless our mission.

In consequence of an important opening for our Connexion in the Town of London, our General Superintendent has been prevented from travelling through our Circuits and Missions, to aid and encourage our Ministers by his labours and counsel. In consequence of the local engagements of our General and Assistant Superintendents, our Missionary operations have been considerably tramelled ; however by the vigorous efforts of the various deputations appointed by our Missionary Committee, a considerable sum has been realized, placing our receipts in advance of last year. But could our General and Assistant Superintendents be relieved from their local engagements so as to employ their energies in our Missionary operations, we have no doubt that our Mission fund might be considerably increased, and at the same time a greater influence in favor of our cause might be enlisted. The urgent necessity for their labours, however, in the stations where they have been employed has utterly precluded the possibility of their engaging to any considerable extent in the Missionary department of our work.

We have been pleased to find that while no very marked revivals have attended our labours through the past year, we have still made advance in point of discipline ; our members are as a general matter in a healthful state, and prepared to move forward in the work of the Lord. We are of opinion that we have enjoyed a revival in the Church, in the increase and refinement of christian graces, and this we regard as a harbinger of more extensive achievements. Amid the mighty political agitation that has almost convulsed the world through the past year, it might have been expected that many would have suffered extensive spiritual loss, while others too much absorbed in those pondrous events which the past year has recorded would have "made shipwreck of faith, and of a good conscience." But in these respects we have suffered less than we anticipated—we have been sheltered under the Almighty's wing, and secure from the storm we have reposed in safety. While others by seeking to attach the church of Christ to the chariot wheels of the state, have produced confusion in their own ranks,—we have kept from that sin which so degrades the church, and from its consequences which are so prejudical to the interests of true piety. It is our decided conviction that the claims of Christ as the Great Head of the Church, take the precedence of all others, and that hence, to to bind it subservient to the state degrades the church, and mars its prosperity.

Our Connexional Paper has proved a valuable auxiliary to our prosperity, as well by diffusing a knowledge of our church-polity as by repelling the malicious attacks made upon our Body, and the misrepresentation of our principles and movements, by those who wished not well to our zion. It has also been extensively useful, as a medium of conveying connexional intelligence through all our circuits and stations, thus encouraging and stimulating to increased effort in the work of God. We have no hesitancy in stating that our Paper while it has embarrassed us, to some extent, in a pecuniary point of view, has been made extensively promotive of the general interests of our Connexion, and we regard it as essential to our prosperity and increase.

Over our wide-spread field of missionary operations, we have abundant proofs of your unabated zeal for the Glory of God, and your abounding liberality toward the work of missions. Many of the back-settlers of our province, are now enjoying the blessings of a regular ministry, who, had it not been for the men, and means you have supplied, must have remained destitute of a preached Gospel to this day. Nor can we behold the chapels and parsonages, your means have enabled us to erect, or those missionaries travelling the vast wild forests of Canada, with the glad tidings of salvation to publish to the destitute and benighted emigrants without feeling the purest emotions of gratitude to God as the Author, and to you as the Agents in such extensive beneficence. But after all your benevolent exertions to supply men and means to our field of labor, and our co-operative exertions for the same end; you can still with difficulty perceive the inconvenience experienced by most of our missionaries, and our difficulty in supplying with suitable means, the numerous openings presented to us. In almost every part of our province, we see fulfilled this scriptural promise "Behold I set before you an open door." Deeply anxious to improve every opening, and to keep pace with the rapidly increasing population of our province, we feel the deepest pain arising from the fact that when all our hosts are rallied, and our means exhausted, there still are open doors into which we cannot enter, and inviting fields which we cannot cultivate.

It is a matter of thankfulness in which you will participate with us, that while disease his raged relentlessly and unmoved by its numerous victims, and though it has slain the companions of some of our Standard-bearers, and torn away the offspring of many more, still it has not been permitted to select and slay any from our ministerial ranks. And though the health of several of our Ministers has sustained injury, yet only one or two have been compelled to quit the field through want of health to pursue their labours, and we are encouraged to hope and pray for the speedy restoration of these to our ranks. But while some have stepped from our ranks, the Lord has provided others to fill up these vacancies, and help on the battle of the Lord. We learn with pleasure through our General Superintendent that it is the design of the committee to send us two young men from England for whose safe and speedy arrival we most earnestly pray.

Finally, in view of the extensive character of our colonial operations, the importance of the work, and the value of immortal souls, for whose salvation we labour, we crave an interest in your sympathies. "Brethren, pray for us that the word of the Lord may have free course and be glorified, even as it was with you."

Signed on behalf of the Conference,

W. McCLURE, President.
T. T. HOWARD, Secretary.

Address

MEMBERS OF THE CANADIAN WESLEYAN METHODIST NEW CONNEXION CHURCH.

DEAR BRETHREN:—We feel much pleasure in once more greeting you with holy benediction. Grace and peace be to you from God the Father and from our Lord Jesus Christ, who gave himself for our sins, that he might deliver us from this present evil world, according to the will of God and our Father; to whom be glory for ever and ever—Amen.

Our object in writing to you, dear Brethren, is to make you acquainted with the great work in which, by divine grace we are all engaged, so that enlisting your sympathy in the good cause, we may become helpers of each other's joy, and co-workers with God and with Christ. The sittings of our Conference have been from beginning to end distinguished for brotherly kindness and charity; the tokens of divine presence were often deep and gracious, for which we bless God, and take courage amid every difficulty. Our public services were very numerously attended, while all of them were times of refreshing from the presence of the Lord. The Sabbath indeed was a high day, long to be remembered by very many people, who to the number of nearly two thousand were assembled in the open air at ten o'clock in the morning, to hear the word of life: the word is evidently taking deep root in this neighborhood; Oh may it speedily occupy every place, and every heart!

But we would not conceal from your knowledge, brethren, that the state of things on some ciruits afflicted us not a little; thank God these are exceptions to the general state of things; yet they are not the less painful to us on that account. May the Lord our God heal every wound, bind up every agitated or broken heart, and effectually deliver the prey from the hand of the strong one; frequently have we had to know while met together that "He who hath no rule over his own spirit, is like a city broken down and without walls."—So also of a church not subject in all things, to the spirit of Christ: there is neither safety nor prosperity there, its members soon forsake, and its foes possess it altogether.

You will rejoice with us to know, dear Brethren, that on many of our circuits we have had a steady advance in the number of the hearers of the word preached, the members of the church, the pecuniary contributions, and we fondly hope in the piety of our Ministers and members. We have reason to know that protracted meetings when properly conducted, are usually attended with very happy results: several sound and striking conversions to God have taken place in such meetings since our last Conference, and we fondly hope that many more such things may be realized this present year. We cannot, however, but state to you, that great results never can be realized unless we carry into the means used, great faith in God, great love for the souls of our fellow men, and great readiness to take up the cross, deny ourselves, and fully to go with Jesus, wherever he may lead; nor should we consider our work over when the protracted effort is over, it is then only begun: when the fallow ground has been broken up, we have now to cast in with great care the good seed, when it has been cast in we have to watch its safety, watering it with anxious care, often with prayers and tears, that it may take root and grow; while in these cases where conversion has taken place, it is our duty to watch over their religious progress, giving their character such a direction in its early stages of formation, as shall ultimately conduce to the greatest amount of happiness, and of usefulness. Never forget how much depends on first impressions, and first habits: the character then well formed, is more than half perfected; while carelessness, or mistakes in the outset, deform and hinder, and vex us all the days of our life; let us labor then to do our services in God's cause, in good season, and with all our heart.

In order to this you must have deep personal piety, you must live fully to God, you must give him all your heart—you must adopt wise and well digested plans of working, and these you must carry out in a humble, calm, and patient deportment, both when disappointed or opposed, or misrepresented: in your patience possess ye your souls; great exploits can only be performed by great efforts, and great efforts naturally imply great obstacles in the way. Oh Brethren we work for eternity, let us do it well, and in time, for the night cometh when no man can work!

Finally Brethren live nearer to God than ever you have done, and thus be "ye always ready, for ye know neither the day nor the hour when the Son of man shall come." Ours are most eventful times: nations and peoples agitated, convulsed, dismayed, "the world is all astir." War, pestilence and famine career furiously.—May the Almighty screen you and yours—the hosts of God were never more active, never more opposed; the issue of this struggle, never was, never can be for one moment doubtful; but must assuredly it is a time for us to display great firmness in the faith, accompanied by enlarged and comprehensive views of our place, and our work in the world.

In your great work of saving yourselves and the souls of others, all human strength is weakness, all human wisdom folly: we know not what may be the issues of a year or of an hour; therefore it is a time for great fervency in prayer. May you ever live in the spirit, and prevailing exercise of prayer; for blessed is that servant who, when his Lord cometh, he shall find so doing.

Signed on behalf of the Conference.

W. McCLURE, President.
T. T. HOWARD, Secretary.

Missionary Report.

The object of Christian Missions is the conversion of the world; the subjugation of every human heart to Christ, to spread gospel truth and gospel blessings, until the Saviour's reign shall extend from pole to pole, and from the rivers to the ends of the earth. An object which every rightly constituted mind must pronounce the most noble, important, and desirable, of any that has ever called into exercise the intellect, the energies, or the hearts of men.

The spirit which animates the Missionary body is a spirit of sympathy, pity, and love; a spirit that weeps over the miseries of fallen humanity, which sighs to burst from every slave of Satan, the fetters of sin, to direct the feet of every wanderer into the way of peace—to point them to the "fountain which is open for sin and uncleanness," that they may "wash and be clean,"—to lead them to the wardrobe of the Redeemer's righteousness, that they may exchange there "filthy rags" for spotless robes—that they may pass triumphantly through the pearly gates of the New Jerusalem, and be found at length in an adoring attitude before the glorious throne of the God of love.

Nor is this enterprise utopian, or the probability of accomplishing this object anywise uncertain, it is not left to the calculation of the theorist—or to be a subject of mere speculation;—no! it is gloriously certain. It does not lie far off on the fluctuating billows of desires, it rises before us as a monument reared by the hand of omnipotence, which is palpable to the eye of hope, and tangible to the hand of faith: a pillar against which we can safely recline whilst we gaze upon the accomplishment of the Divine purposes,—whilst we view with astonishment and delight that combination of great and mysterious events, which is now exhibited to us on the theatre of the world which presents to the enlightened christian a pleasing developement of Jehovah's plan for extending the dominion of the Redeemer—and a sure indication of the near approach of that glorious period when "the knowledge of the Lord shall cover the earth as the waters cover the great deep."

> "Jesus shall reign where'er the sun
> Doth his successive journies run,
> His Kingdom spread from shore to shore
> Till suns shall rise and set no more."

That Jesus shall have "the heathen for his inheritance and the uttermost parts of the earth for his possession" that the "Kingdoms of this world shall become the kingdom of our God and his Christ," we are warranted in believing on the authority of God's word; yes! they are facts written in that Book, the contents of which are truth; truth firm as the throne God. To that precious Book we turn amidst our toils and discouragements; its teachings cheer and stimulate us; there we strengthen our faith, renew our patience, inflame our zeal, and invigorate our benevolence.

The Missionary cause therefore is a glorious enterprize, worthy of enlisting our warmest sympathies, our weightiest influence, our most fervent prayers; the devotion of our energies and resources.

Nor has the Canadian Wesleyan Methodist New Connexion Church been idle, she has responded to the call of the Great Head of the Church, and has gone up to the help of the Lord, to the help of the Lord against the mighty. She has cast her mite of influence into this great work. Though her efforts have not been commensurate with her desires, we trust they have been limited only by her means, and that the Head of the church looking upon her labors of the past year, with a smile of approbation exclaims, "she hath done what she could."

Your committee in presenting their annual report to this meeting, feel called upon gratefully to adore the giver of all good, for the kind providence afforded our Missionaries during another year, in the continuance of their health, and the preservation of their lives. The arrows of death have been playing around them, but the shield of Divine protection has been placed before them, they have passed safely through the shadows of death, and are found at the termination of another year the living to praise God. But more especially are we called upon to praise him for that amount of success which he has graciously given to the labors of his servants: not only have the old settlements of our province been visited with revival influence—and thus an addition been made to the number of our membership,—but the desert places have been cultivated under the genial rays of the sun of righteousness, and amidst the fructifying showers of Divine grace and mercy: thus where formerly the upas of iniquity flourished, the rose of Sharon blooms, the lilly of the valley smiles, and the fragrance of Lebanon delights the soul.

But a wider field is opening before us, and your committee cannot listen to the many calls they have for assistance without being deeply impressed with the necessity of increased exertion in every department of Missionary labor, and of the absolute impossibility of prosecuting our work with efficiency without an increase of laborers, and a considerable augmentation of our funds. Your committee cannot record but with heart-felt gratitude the continued benevolence of the parent society, the resources which a kind providence has placed at their disposal are dealt out to us with a liberal hand, and an affectionate heart.

Nor are we unmindful of the benefit conferred upon our connexion here through the wisdom and beneficence of our English brethren, by the appointment of our esteemed assistant Superintendent to labor amongst us, though from peculiar circumstances his efforts have been more local, and his influence more confined (as those also of our worthy General Superintendent) than we could desire, still his influence has been extensively felt, and we pray that the Head of the Church may long preserve his life, and make him extensively useful.

Your Committee, in adverting to the efforts which have been put forth by our Collectors, and to the liberality of our contributors in this country, do it with unmingled pleasure, and the most fervent thanks; the fact that, during a season of unusual deprivation, the funds of our Auxiliary Missionary Society have been augmented upwards of fifty pounds, presents a very pleasing development of the interest taken in the work, and also a most gratifying demonstration of the approbation of our God.

Still we believe more may be done, and more must be done. The fearful situation of thousands of destitute souls, who are perishing around us, demands it—our own spiritual prosperity demands it—the sufferings and intercession of the Redeemer demand it; if we stand still it is at the peril of our souls! The fields are already white with the waving grain, let us go and put in the Gospel sickle and we shall reap a glorious harvest of immortal souls. With the following impressive remarks from the Report of the Committee of the Parent Society, your Committee will bring their report to a close.

"We must pray as well as give, and the fervour of our prayers must be, at least, equal to the liberality of our gifts. Without the union of our prayers with our pecuniary oblations, the latter will be unsanctified, and we shall look for prosperity in vain: without this union, indeed, prosperity would only produce a proud elation, alike injurious to ourselves, and offensive to God. The Macedonian cry from our stations, is uttering a loud entreaty for our prayers, as well as for our gifts; and the new and formidable barriers which are presented by a recreant and degenerating Protestantism, by a refined pantheism and trancendentalism, and by pestilent forms of absurd superstition, swarming amid the very harvest field of our labonrs, urge the duty upon us with admonitory solemnity. Brethren, it is our safety, as well as our success, which depends upon our prayers. Let the whole church, then, prostrate herself in the dust, and, in solemn and imploring accents, send forth the incessant cry,—'Arise, O God, plead thine own cause. Remember how the foolish man reproacheth thee daily. Forget not the voice of thine enemies. God be merciful unto us and bless us; and cause his face to shine upon us; that thy way may be known upon earth, thy saving health among all nations. Let the people praise thee, O God; let all the people praise thee. Then shall the earth yield her increase, and God, even our own God, shall bless us. God shall bless us, and all the ends of the earth shall fear him.'" Amen.
